

FRIDAY, DECEMBER 9, 2011

Show us your lights!

MARK BLACK/mblack@dailyherald.com

This is the Christmas lighting display that is synced to music by 18-year-old Zach Gebis of West Chicago. This is the third year Gebis has made a synced display at his family's home. When drivers pull up in front of 27w537 Timber Land in West Chicago, they should tune their radios to 101.3 FM to listen and watch the 20-minute light display.

Final week for entries

DAILYHERALD.COM PRESENTS

Holiday Lights Contest

This year, we're changing things up a bit: Your votes will determine the winner, and we're giving away two snowblowers. To enter, submit a photo on our contest page at www.dailyherald.com/contests/holidaylights/. Need help? See our video tutorial on how to photograph holiday lights. You can also check out a West Chicago home's display set to music. The deadline for submissions is midnight Dec. 11.