LIGHTS DISPLAY SYNCHRONIZED SENSATION

In 2008, Zach Gebis took the holiday display at his home, located on Timber Lane near Woodview Drive in West Chicago, to the next level with computer controls that synchronize lights with Christmas music. The display, Listen to the Lights, is up again this year and visitors can enjoy the show by tuning their car radio to 101.3 FM to hear such tunes as "Jingle Bells" and "Joy to the World." The display is free, though donations are appreciated. To learn more about the display and its hours of operation, go to www.lightsofillinois.com.
